JANUARY 2023

New Year, New Opportunities

Another year is behind us and it is time to look ahead. It's time for resolutions and promises to ourselves. Those promises take many shapes. Some people vow to take steps for better health. Some wish to take steps for an improved work situation. Some wish to help others or bring awareness to a cause.

Whatever it is you wish to change about your life this year, we are here to help! Looking to increase your physical activity? We've got exercise instructional videos. Want to start eating less meat and more vegetables? We've got vegetarian and vegan cookbooks with information on how to change your diet safely. Need some employment advice? Stop by for Work-It Wednesday from 3:30 to 4:30pm. Looking for the right place to volunteer? We can provide you with a list of local organizations and projects looking for help and their contact information. Already know what's important to you but need help finding information? That's our specialty! We can also put you in touch with likeminded people so you can work together.

Whatever your project for 2023 is, our library staff are eager to help you find your way with safe, reliable, information. It's as simple as picking up the phone (780-624-4076) or sending an e-mail (info@prmlibrary.ab.ca). Our favourite is when you stop by in person because we love to see the smile on your face when we can help you find what you need!

IN THE ART GALLERY

In the Art Gallery—December 15 to January 18th.—TREX : Careful Space, Gentle Matters

Careful Space, Gentle Matters highlights the work of two Alberta-based artists who center and affirm their lived experiences of disability and chronic illness. Bodies all have wonderfully different and complex capacities. However, many of our daily spaces continue to be designed and programmed as if all bodies are the same. In response to this lack of consideration, many who live with disability and chronic illness experience feelings of grief, trauma, frustration and anger. The artists in Careful Space, Gentle Matters, explore these complex feelings in addition to celebrating the important forms of care, rest, and joy that they gently make with themselves, and with community.
